1. INTRODUCTION

1.1. Program Objectives

IIM Raipur offers full-time fellow programme leading to PhD Degree, that offers research scholars opportunities for advanced studies and research in different areas of 'management'. Beginning 2019, IIM Raipur has been offering PhD degree to its research scholars owing to their fulfilment of minimum criteria as laid down by Ministry of Human Resource Development, Govt. of India. This programme aims to prepare research scholars for careers in teaching and research in management studies and in related disciplines, and for careers in other organizations that require advanced analytical and research capabilities. The program provides research scholars with necessary skills to identify and research complex issues in the field of management and disseminate their findings into publications of international standards. Following areas of specialization are available at IIM Raipur:

- Business Policy and Strategy
- Economics and Business Environment
- Finance and Accounting
- Marketing
- Operations Management
- Organisational Behaviour & HRM
- Information Technology and Systems

1.2. Program Structure

The fellow programme at IIM Raipur has the following four components:

- (a) Mandatory Course Work
- (b) Comprehensive Examination
- (c) Thesis Proposal Formulation
- (d) Thesis Submission and Defense

(a) Mandatory Course Work

During first year of the programme the research scholars acquire knowledge of the discipline and functional areas of management and general management. The research scholars, irrespective of their areas of specialization, take a compulsory set of courses in the first year. At the end of the first year, they undergo a summer placement/summer research assignment under the advice/guidance of his/her Academic Advisor. Research scholars having a one/two/three-year full-time classroom based PGDM/PGP from any of the IIMs would be exempted from the first year course work including the summer work provided they have obtained a minimum CGPA of 6 on a 10-point scale or an equivalent 3.0 on a 4.0-point scale and the corresponding letter grade 'B'. They will directly enter into the second year. However, they will have to take the compulsory Doctoral Level Courses (offered in the first year) along with their second-year course work. In addition, the sentient area may recommend additional first year courses for research scholars in the exempted category, if the area members feel that the scholar(s) requires additional inputs in the core discipline.

During the second year of the programme, the research scholars acquire an in-depth knowledge of the area of specialization and related fields. In addition, they take the PGP/Doctoral Level elective courses, which are specially designed to provide an in-depth understanding of the area of their research as well as to develop research skills.

(b) Comprehensive Examination

On completion of the second-year course work, the research scholar takes the comprehensive examination. The comprehensive examination at the end of the second-year tests whether the research scholar has obtained a satisfactory level of knowledge in his/her field of specialization and whether s/he has satisfactorily assimilated the various courses taken by him/her in the area. While the course work formally gets over with the completion of comprehensive Examination, research scholars are encouraged to continue taking advanced courses of interest even further into their research work.

(c) Thesis Proposal Formulation

After passing the comprehensive examination, the research scholar enters the thesis writing stage. S/he first develops a thesis proposal, for which s/he identifies a research topic, identifies the members of the Thesis Advisory Committee (TAC), gives a seminar on the thesis proposal to IIM Raipur's academic community, and gets the thesis proposal approved by the TAC.

(d) Thesis Submission and Defense

On approval of the thesis proposal, the research scholar works closely with the TAC on his/her thesis work. When the research scholars' supervisor judges that the thesis is complete, the scholar gives a seminar on the thesis work and subsequently defends the thesis orally before a thesis examination committee. The Chairperson (Doctoral Programmes) appoints the thesis examination committee comprising the thesis advisor and other members.

1.3. Program Duration

This is a full-time residential programme. The research scholar is expected to complete the programme in four years. Under special circumstances, extension may be granted to the research scholar. In any case, the entire program should finish within six years. If a research scholar fails to complete the requisite academic works for the Doctoral Programme within this specified period, then s/he has to withdraw from the programme. The research scholar's registration will be terminated on the completion of six years.

Research scholars are not permitted to take up employment / outside assignment during the programme. If violated, suitable disciplinary action including expulsion from the programme would be initiated by the Doctoral Programs Committee. In case, wherein the research scholar likes to extend his/her stay for one more year in order to complete his/her thesis work, a request has to be made by the research scholar through TAC to the Chairperson (Doctoral Programmes) for a maximum of one more year of stay.

1.4. Title

After completion of all requirements of the programme, the research scholar is awarded with PhD Degree in Management.

1.5. Other Issues

The respective area is responsible for monitoring the progress of the research scholars enrolled in that particular area. This includes issues such as periodic performance appraisal, continuation of the research scholarship, and comprehensive examination.

The decision of the institute (Director) in matters of interpretation of the rules will be final and binding on all concerned.

2. FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE, STIPEND AND ADDITIONAL GRANTS

All resident Indian research scholars admitted to the programme are provided financial assistance, fellowship and various others grants.

2.1 Financial Assistance

The Tuition Fee, Library Fee, Computer Fee and Hostel Fee are completely waived for research scholars selected for Fellow program at IIM Raipur. The research scholars have to pay a one-time Alumni Association fee of ₹6000/- at the time of acceptance of offer for Alumni Membership. Selected scholars need to pay caution deposit of ₹30,000/- at the time of acceptance of offer. Caution money is refundable after adjusting dues, if any, at the time of leaving the Institute.

2.2 Stipend

Research scholars are provided with a fellowship stipend of ₹30,000 per month during the first and the second year. The stipend will continue until the research scholar's successful clearance of Comprehensive Exam at the end of the second year. For the rest of the period of the programme (i.e., third and fourth year) a stipend of ₹35,000 per month will be provided after the successful completion of comprehensive examination at the end of the second year. Under exceptional circumstances and on the recommendation of the TAC Chair, the stipend can be extended for six months after fourth year. The recommendation for the same will be taken by the Doctoral Programs Committee and approved by the Director.

2.3 Additional Grants

A complete package of grants is provided to all FPM research scholars. The package has the following components:

- (a) A one-time Computer Grant to purchase PC/Laptop of ₹50,000/-.
- (b) Cumulative Conference Grant upto ₹1,50,000/- during the Doctoral program for attending one International Conference, upto two National Conferences and one Doctoral Consortium Seminar. In lieu of the International Conference, one may wish to visit a foreign university to do some research work.
- (c) A yearly contingency grant of ₹40,000/- is available for each FPM Scholar per year, which can be used during academic year (i.e. from July to June). The use of contingency grant requires prior ratification from Chairperson (Doctoral Program) on the recommendation of TAC Chair/Area Chair. The unused contingency grant for any year will be lapsed in that year. The grant can be used for the following purposes:
 - (i) For attending research workshops in India
 - (ii) Fieldwork in connection with thesis work for the entire duration of the program (including extension). Only Travel and Accommodation will be allowed. No DA will be given for fieldwork / data collection. DA is permitted only for attending International / National Conference.

- (iii) Purchase of books, photocopy, printing, stationery, consumables (such as pen drive, hard disk, software etc.), accessories (such as voice recorder)
- (iv) Support for thesis binding & printing, copy-editing of paper, transcription and coding
- (v) Subscription to journal / magazines; Annual Membership fee (research scholar rates) for one national and one international professional society during third and fourth year.
- (vi) Yearly health insurance premium from the institute's empanelled health insurance provider
- (vii) Software, provided TAC Chair gives in writing that it is essential for the scholars work and existing software cannot be used for the work.

Note: Research scholars will submit the bill to FPM Office within 15 days of bill / invoice date for reimbursement of computer grant and contingency grant.

2.4 Important Note

- (a) Those who are exempted from first year course work and are admitted directly in the second year of the programme would be eligible to get stipend and other grant only for thirty-six months, i.e., for three years.
- (b) Free hostel accommodation will be made available to the scholars. In case, hostel accommodation is not available, the scholar will be reimbursed @ ₹5000/- per month towards alternative accommodation.
- (c) The institute reserves the right to charge any other fees from the research scholars or increase the fees if considered necessary. Due notice would be given, while making such changes.
- (d) Self-sponsored / NRIs / foreign scholars will be required to bear all the expenses including tuition fee (as applicable to Executive Fellow Program in Management).

3. COURSE WORK

Objectives

During the first year of the programme the research scholars are expected to acquire proficiency in general management. The second year of the programme is meant for acquiring in-depth knowledge of the area of specialization and related fields. Scholars are required to attend all the sessions in FPM level courses.

3.1 First Year

Research scholars will have to take an equivalent of 18 courses (18 Credits) in the first year¹ as follows:

- (a) Twelve Courses from PGP courses offered in the first year to PGP students. Each area should identify a list of twelve courses to be undertaken by the scholars in their area. The courses can be spread over the three terms of the first year. Research scholars should submit the Course Registration Form (Annexure I) duly approved by Area Chair to the FPM Office before beginning of Term I.
- (b) Four courses from compulsory Doctoral Level courses which will be mandatory for all the areas. These courses will comprise:
 - Pedagogy (1 Credit)
 - Academic and Professional Writing (0.5 Credit)
 - Communication for Management Teachers (0.5 Credit)
 - Philosophy / Foundation of Management /Business History (1 Credit)
 - Advanced Research Methodology (1 Credit)
- (c) Two courses will be in the form of Summer Internship / Guided Research Project. The area can recommend the research scholars to either take up 8-10 weeks of summer internship or a guided research project under a faculty member (as summer project advisor) from the sentient area. The soft copy of the summer internship / research report (with copy marked to the concerned advisor), must be submitted to the FPM Office by 1st June of the First Year. FPM Office will schedule the Summer Research Project (SRP) presentation of the scholar within a month considering the availability of faculty members.

The research scholars who already have a one/two/three-year full-time classroom based PGDM/PGP from any of the IIMs would be exempted from the first year course work including the summer work provided they have obtained a minimum CGPA of 6 on a 10-point scale or an equivalent 3.0 in 4.0-point scale and the corresponding letter grade 'B'. They will directly enter into the second year, during which they will also have to take additional compulsory doctoral courses (offered in the first year for regular research scholars).

3.2 Second Year

Research scholars will have to take an equivalent of 12 courses (12 Credits) in the second year. They should submit the Course Registration Form (Annexure I) duly approved by Area Chair to the FPM office before beginning of Term IV. These courses are divided as follows:

- (a) Four Courses from PGP Elective courses from within the Area or Related Area
- (b) Six Doctoral Level Courses
 - Two Area Level Courses
 - Two Advanced Research Courses / One Advanced Research Course + One Related Area Course
 - Two courses as CIS I and CIS II with two different faculty members of the area in Term IV and V

The objective of CIS I and II is to prepare a research scholar to select a suitable line of enquiry for his/her research by working under different faculty members of the area. CIS I and II will be a review of papers as specified by the CIS Advisor. The soft copy of the same (with copy marked to the concerned advisor) should be submitted within 15 days of the completion of the relevant term to the FPM Office. CIS I and II will be evaluated by the faculty advisor himself/herself similar to a course.

- (c) Two Courses in the form of Mini Dissertation (after Vth Term) with a different faculty member or one of the faculty members under whom the research scholar performed CIS I or CIS II.

The purpose of having a Mini Dissertation is to prepare the research scholar for his/her final research. It is expected that through the Mini Dissertation, a research scholar gains sufficient grasp of the research work s/he wishes to perform in his/her area. The research scholar should narrow down his/her area of interest and help him/her create a base for finalizing the topic of his/her thesis proposal. It is pertinent to note that the mini dissertation represents a visible concrete output, and would, therefore, have demonstrable potential enabling individuals to pursue further work on the theme. The research scholar should organize and report the learnings gained in an in-depth systematic literature review undertaken in their field of research. The mini dissertation should be a substantive contribution to the research scholar's knowledge as well as to his research topic through integration of various literature sources in the domain.

The mini dissertation will be evaluated by the Mini Dissertation advisor himself/herself and another two faculty members to be nominated by the Chairperson (Doctoral Programmes) in consultation with the research scholar's Mini Dissertation Advisor. In case of unsatisfactory performance in the Mini Dissertation work, the research scholar would be given one more chance to submit his/her Mini Dissertation work within one month for re-evaluation from the date of first evaluation. After two unsuccessful attempts, the Research scholar's registration to the program will be cancelled. A soft copy of the final report (with copy marked to the concerned faculty member) should be submitted to FPM Office before Comprehensive Examination. Presentations on Mini Dissertation will normally take place in the month of April of the second year.

Second year courses can also be substituted on the basis of contact hours from other universities / institutes (from India / Abroad) also with due permission from the respective Area Chair, Chairperson (Doctoral Programs) and the Corresponding person from the other university / institution. Such university / institute must carry International Accreditation (such as AACSB, AMBA, EFMD). If such a request is approved, the research scholar is granted course- work Leave. In every such case, the research scholar is required to take the Area Comprehensive Exam along with other research scholars as per schedule. If the research scholars avail of financial support, such as a Fellowship/research scholarship from that university, they are not entitled to the stipend from IIM Raipur for the period of such financial support, unless the financial support extended by the host institution is lower than IIM Raipur's Fellowship, in which case, the shortfall in the stipend will be paid. In addition, for this purpose, annual contingency grant will be counted as part of the stipend.

3.3 Third and Fourth Year

The research scholars will clear the Comprehensive Examination (CE) and work closely and independently under the Thesis Advisory Committee (TAC) on a research topic. Some pointers for the third and fourth year are as follows:

- (a) The research scholar should present the thesis proposal before the faculty community in the third year after the comprehensive exam. The research scholar should present the thesis proposal maximally by the end of third year, failing which his/her candidature will be cancelled.
- (b) The research scholar will have to submit monthly as well as six-monthly progress reports duly attested by the TAC Chair all through third and fourth year.
- (c) The research scholar should ideally give the final thesis seminar before the end of 2nd trimester of fourth year. All exceptions from the proposed plan/ requests for extension will have to be submitted through the TAC Chair for approval of the Chairperson (Doctoral Programmes).
- (d) For extension requests beyond the fourth year, the candidate would be required to make the presentation of the thesis/ work-in-progress before the TAC. The TAC will give the feedback for incorporation into the thesis.

3.4 Transfer from One Area to Another

After joining the Doctoral Program, a research scholar may apply by December 15th of the first year for change of the area of specialization if s/he so desires. Following conditions need to be fulfilled for change of area:

- (a) The research scholar must obtain CGPA ≥ 8.5 by the end of Term II to be considered for change of area.
- (b) The research scholar must obtain the consent from the original area of specialization as well as the destination area.
- (c) A research scholar cannot take transfer into an area to which s/he was originally rejected during the admission interview.
- (d) The research scholar must additionally take first year courses as prescribed by the destination area but not covered by the original area in the second year.

3.5 Academic Advisors

The program is designed in such a way that a research scholar works with different faculty members of the area during Research Assistantship, Summer Project, CIS I, CIS II, Mini Dissertation and Teaching Assistantship. The research scholar should submit academic advisor appointment form (Annexure II) for each such appointment to the FPM Office. Research scholars are expected to consult their academic advisors for various academic matters relating to their elective courses, summer projects, CIS, Mini Dissertation and comprehensive examination. The responsibility of an academic advisor ends with the completion of the term in which s/he is assigned as an academic advisor to the research scholar.

3.6 Completion of Course Work

Research scholars must finish all requirements of the courses within the term in which the courses are offered. Second year research scholars must complete their Mini Dissertation requirements before they are allowed to appear for the comprehensive examination. Course work completion refers to two years of course work including successful completion of Mini Dissertation and Comprehensive Examination.

3.7 Research and Teaching Assistantship

Research scholars should provide a mandatory Research and Teaching Assistant services during the doctoral program. The objective of research and teaching assistantship is to equip the research scholar with necessary research and teaching skills as well as to help them identify the theme within their area they would want to work in. Research scholars will provide Research Assistantship during the second and third trimesters of the first year of their program and Teaching Assistantship after completion of their comprehensive examination. They should submit the allocation form regarding the same to the FPM Office (Annexure II).

- (a) During the first year (Term II and Term III), the research scholar should work as a research assistant under different faculty members of his/her area. A research scholar will provide research assistantship to a faculty member up to 10 hours per week.

- (b) During the third and fourth year, after completion of the comprehensive examination, a research scholar should provide teaching assistantship to different faculty members from within his/her area on the rotation basis.
- (c) Teaching Assistance services may comprise Course Curriculum Design and Development, Classroom Participation Assessment, and Course Evaluation Assistance etc.
- (d) A log of working hours will be maintained by the research scholar himself / herself and be duly signed by the faculty member to whom he/she is assigned to as a research / teaching assistant. The unutilized component of number of hours for research / teaching assistantship will lapse within that week. Research scholars should submit a report of their work to the Doctoral Programs Office as per Annexure V.
- (e) At any given point of time, a research scholar can be assigned to only one faculty member within the area. Similarly, a faculty member can have a maximum of only one research scholar as a RA and a maximum of one research scholar as a TA at any given point of time.
- (f) A research scholar can take up to 10 teaching sessions during the fourth year as facilitated by the sentient area. However, they cannot take more than 2 sessions for any course. They can also teach during preparatory sessions for the newly admitted PGP students.
- (g) Research Scholar has to submit RA / TA Work Form (Annexure V) to FPM Office by 25th of every month. Stipend will be released after receipt of the RA / TA Form duly approved by the concerned faculty member.

4. COMPREHENSIVE EXAMINATION

4.1 Objective

The objective of the Comprehensive Examination (CE) at the end of the second year is to test whether the research scholar has obtained a satisfactory level of comprehension and application of the concepts learned in his/her field of specialization. The CE is not to test knowledge of a discrete collection of topics in the area. The comprehensive examination consists of a written test covering the research scholar's knowledge in his area.

The research scholars are required to appear for the CE on completion of the required course work, including CIS. Ideally, a research scholar should complete his/her course work including Mini Dissertation by the month of April of the second year and prepare for the CE. The Chairperson (Doctoral Programmes) informs different Area Chairpersons about the names of the research scholars who have completed their course work and are required to appear for the CE.

4.2 Comprehensive Examination Process

The comprehensive examination comprises of the written test which will be administered by the sentient area. The area will communicate the question paper by first week of June to FPM office which will administer the Comprehensive Examination for the research scholar. The question paper will be set by three members (two members in case three are not available) from within the area, particularly those who have taught the research scholar in the second year. The research scholar will be tested primarily on the doctoral level courses s/he has taken in the second year. The entire answer copy will be examined independently by three different members of the area (two members in case three are not available) and their average will be taken as the final marks earned by the scholar. The results will be declared within two weeks of the written examination. At least two out of three members (or all members in case only two members are available) of the area should declare the research scholar as Pass for him/her to clear the comprehensive examination. The grade 'Pass' signifies the minimal acceptable performance expected from a research scholar. A 'Fail' indicates that the scholar has not achieved the proficiency expected of our research scholars.

4.3 Time Limit for Comprehensive Examination

The research scholar must appear for the Comprehensive Examination by the end of June after completing the course work phase, failing which his/her monthly stipend will be withheld from the month of July. In case of unsatisfactory performance in the CE, one re-examination is permitted. But it must be taken by the research scholar within 3 months of the first CE. If the research scholar clears CE in this attempt, the withheld stipend will be released.

If the research scholars fail to clear CE in this attempt also, he will have to withdraw from the program.

5. PERFORMANCE AND EVALUATION

5.1 Academic Performance and Evaluation System

The evaluation of academic performance is based on varying combinations of the following components:

- (a) Assignments, Quizzes, Class participation etc.
- (b) Project Work and or term paper(s)
- (c) Mid-term Examination
- (d) Term-end Examination

While components (c) and (d) are mandatory for a full PGP level course, relative weights of the components for a specific course will be at the discretion of the instructor. For Doctoral level courses, the evaluation scheme and the weights for each component in the scheme vary from course to course. The course instructor has the option to choose the mode of written examination. It could be classroom, open-book/closed-book or take-home examination /assignment.

The evaluation scheme for each course is conveyed to the research scholars at the beginning of the course along with the course outline. Attendance is must for Mid and End-Term examinations for each research scholar in each term, failing which he/she will be debarred from the registration for next term. Such research scholars are required to continue from that term along with the next batch.

For each component of evaluation, the faculty member will communicate the performance to research scholars. At the end of the course, the faculty member will aggregate all the components of evaluation using the weights he has prescribed in the course outline. He shall compute the weighted cumulative marks and give the appropriate grade. Numeric score for individual components along with class distribution of scores may be communicated to the research scholars.

IIM Raipur follows a system of continuous evaluation. Throughout the term, the research scholar will be tested on his/her ability to understand concepts, learn techniques and apply them to problems in the real world. At each stage of the course, the research scholar would be in a position to assess his/her performance and take measures to make improvements.

5.2 Grading System

A ten-point grading scale with corresponding letter grades as follows is used:

Letter Grade	A+	A	A-	B+	B	B-	C+	C	C-	D	F	I
Grade Point	10	9	8	7	6	5	4	3	2	1	0	-
Description	Exceptional	Excellent	Proficient	Very Good	Good	Fair	Satisfactory	Unsatisfactory	Poor	Very Poor	Fail	Incomplete*

Absent in Mid-Term/End Term*

The Term Grade Point Average (TGPA) is calculated by computing the sum of grade points in respective courses multiplied by their respective credits and dividing it by the total credits for all courses in the term. Similarly, the Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) is calculated at the end of each term as a composite index of the academic performance of the research scholar up to that stage in the Programme. TGPA is an indicator of research scholar's performance for a term, whereas CGPA is an indicator of research scholar's performance up to a term.

“In the case of a research scholar obtaining ‘I’ Grade, he/she shall be required to repeat that component in that course before Mid-Term Examination of the subsequent term. If the reason for absence for Mid / End Term examination does not come under Medical/exigencies, a loss of two grades will be imposed after re-examination result. If the research scholar is unable to appear for the re-examination on the said due date, he/she will be awarded ‘F’ Grade.”

IIM Raipur follows a system of relative grading. This implies that the grade received by a research scholar is relative to the grades obtained by the class as a whole. It is therefore not uncommon to find a case where a research scholar obtains a grade of B for obtaining 75% marks; since, the class average was around 73% marks. However, faculty members may prescribe some absolute limits to award grades as well. For example, he/she may fix 30% marks as minimum marks for obtaining a pass grade. In each course, a research scholar is thus awarded a letter grade only. The weighted average for all courses taken by a research scholar in the programme is called the Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA). The weights used to compute CGPA are the number of credit hours for a course.

5.3 Academic Criteria for the Course Work

A research scholar must satisfy the following conditions at the end of each term of the first year to be eligible for promotion to second year of the doctoral program:

- (a) A minimum TGPA of 4.5 in each Term
- (b) A minimum CGPA of 5.0
- (c) Not more than 2-Ds or 1 F in the First Year

The second year's passing requirements are as follows:

- (a) A minimum CGPA of 5.0
- (b) A minimum GPA of 5.5 in the area specific courses at the end of second year
- (c) Not more than 2-Ds or 1 F in the Second Year.

In case a research scholar fails to attain the required GPA after any term, his registration will be cancelled.

Research scholars are advised to obtain their answer sheets from the FPM Office / Concerned faculty and seek clarifications (if any) from the faculty. The office will display the grades obtained by all the research scholars in a particular term, three weeks after the end of the term. The notice will be displayed for 3 days during which research scholars can verify the accuracy of the grades. After this period the grades will be finalised and informed to the research scholars. After the grade sheets are finalised by the FPM Office, no request for re-evaluation or change in grade will be entertained.

Each research scholar is expected to attend a minimum of 80% of classes in each course (i.e. in a 1 Credit course, 16 classes out of 20) to avoid grade-drop penalty. The grade penalty will be imposed on all the research scholars, who do not meet the minimum 80% attendance requirements in each course in the following manner.

Attendance of Research Scholar (%)	Grade Penalty
More than or equal to 70% but less than 80%	One grade drop (e.g. from A+ to A)
More than or equal to 60% but less than 70%	Two grade drop (e.g. from A+ to A-)
More than or equal to 50% but less than 60%	Three grade drop (e.g. from A+ to B+)
Less than 50%	F grade will be awarded

Those research scholars who do not fulfil the academic requirements of the programme within the stipulated time, the Doctoral Programs Committee may review the situation and may cancel the registration of the research scholar in consultation with the Area Chair.

The research scholar whose registration has been cancelled on any grounds may file an appeal to the Director, who in consultation with the academic council may reconsider his /her case and take decision accordingly. The decision of the Director on such appeal will be final & binding.

6. THESIS WORK

6.1 Objective

The thesis should be a scholarly contribution to the knowledge pertinent to the understanding and resolution of management problems. The research scholar should demonstrate professional competence in developing a model or a set of hypotheses, collecting and interpreting data, reaching conclusions, and drawing the implications for research and managerial practice.

6.2 Thesis Advisory Committee

Within one month from the date of passing the comprehensive examination, the research scholar must identify a Thesis Advisor who will guide him/her as Chairperson in his/her Thesis Advisory Committee (TAC). The research scholar is supposed to conduct an independent research under the TAC. This should be communicated to the Fellow Programmes Office in writing along with the consent of the concerned faculty member (Annexure IX). The Chairperson (Doctoral Programmes) appoints the TAC in consultation with the research scholar and the thesis advisor. A research scholar must propose his/her TAC within three months of passing his/her comprehensive examination. A faculty member can be a TAC Chair for a maximum of four full-time research scholars at any given point of time.

The TAC will consist of three members, including the thesis advisor, at least two of which must be from the research scholar's area of specialization. The members are chosen to contribute to the thesis research in a complementary manner and to provide help in literature search, research design, model construction, fieldwork, and data analysis. Under exceptional circumstances, an expert or an academician from outside of IIM Raipur can also be member of the committee provided s/he is interested in the topic of research and can spare time to guide the research scholar.

If the circumstances demand, the Chairperson (Doctoral Programmes) may, in consultation with the research scholar and the Chairperson of the TAC, reconstitute the TAC. A Co-Chairperson TAC will be appointed (from amongst TAC members) if TAC Chairperson proceeds on long leave or quits the services of the Institute and FPM scholar's pre-thesis submission seminar is not over. In case TAC Chairperson proceeds on long leave or quits the services of the institute before the thesis proposal of the scholar, the TAC will be reconstituted. Research scholar should submit the TAC Change Form (Annexure X) to the FPM Office for the same.

The role of TAC members includes the following:

- (a) Judging the adequacy of the research design for the Thesis Proposal
- (b) Attending thesis seminar to be presented by the research scholars and to provide feedback
- (c) Providing written feedback on the draft thesis submitted by the research scholar

6.3 Thesis Proposal Seminar

The proposal should contain a survey of literature and context description on the subject. Research scholars should clearly state their research objectives, relate these to the research in the area and problems in this context, develop a model or a set of hypotheses, provide clear definitions, describe and defend the proposed research methodology and highlight the potential contribution of the proposed study to theory, practice, and research in the relevant area of management.

When the TAC agrees on the adequacy of the research design, the research scholar formulates a preliminary thesis proposal and gives a seminar on the proposal to the institute's academic community for getting further inputs to strengthen the thesis proposal. The research scholar through TAC chairperson should give at least seven days to the FPM office for arranging the date for Thesis Proposal presentation after submission of draft Thesis proposal. The FPM office in consultation with FPM (Chairperson) and TAC Chair will finalize a date ensuring that there is a gap of at least 7 days between the circulation of abstract of thesis proposal and the Thesis Proposal presentation to encourage better participation from the Institute's academic community.

Process and timelines mentioned in Appendix-I to be adhered by the scholar, concerned authorities and officials.

6.4 Approval and Submission of Thesis Proposal

A thesis proposal is approved only after the research scholar has given the thesis proposal seminar and the TAC concludes that the subject appears researchable in the way it has been proposed. TAC will ascertain that the field work is likely to produce the required data, and the analytical methodology, if adequately carried out will produce an acceptable thesis, and the research scholar is ready for doing full scale research. A soft copy of the same (with copy marked to the TAC) should be submitted within 15 days of the completion of the Thesis Proposal Seminar. The research scholar's failure to fulfil this requirement within 6 months after passing his CE will be considered as "unsatisfactory performance" and the stipend will be stopped. A research scholar can be given one more chance to present the thesis proposal by the end of third year. If he clears in the second attempt, his stipend will be released from the date of clearing the thesis proposal seminar. If the research scholar fails to clear in the second attempt, his/her registration will be cancelled. If the scholar has taken leave without stipend, such period will also be counted in calculating this time limit.

6.5 Thesis Research

Under the TAC's guidance, the research scholar pursues independent and original research towards preparation of a thesis. The thesis may require field investigation and observation to ascertain and impartially report facts and issues of significance to organizations and institutions. The thesis should include effective analysis and evaluation of relevant data to yield independent and significant conclusions.

6.6 Research Progress Report

In order to promote a healthy system for tracking academic progress of the research scholars and to facilitate the Doctoral Committee to take timely remedial actions, each FPM scholar is required to give a progress seminar presentation every six months after successful completion of his/her thesis proposal presentation in the month of June and December every academic year and this is applicable to all FPM scholars who have successfully defended their thesis proposals but not fulfilled the requirement for draft thesis submission. They are required to submit a six-monthly report of their progress to the FPM Office. The report in the prescribed format (Annexure XIII) signed by the Chairperson of the TAC should reach the office latest by the end of every six months. Monthly progress report in the prescribed format (Annexure XIII) signed by the Chairperson of the TAC also be submitted by all scholars after successful completion of his/her thesis proposal. If monthly report is not submitted by the any of scholar on or before end of the month (by 28th of every month), stipend for that month will not be paid to that scholar.

6.7 Draft Thesis

The principal purpose of the thesis is to demonstrate a research scholars' capability to make fruitful use of research methods appropriate to the problem and to develop and handle evidence satisfactorily. Hence, the thesis should contain a statement of (a) the research procedures employed, and (b) the extent, nature, reliability and suitability of the evidence gathered. Clarity, conciseness and orderliness of writing and presentation are required. It is necessary to include sufficient evidence to support the reasoning and conclusions so as to permit other research scholars to build upon them. The length of the thesis will vary with research topic and evidence required. The thesis need not be of book length. The research scholar submits the soft copy of the draft thesis to the FPM Office duly approved by the TAC Chair before proposing the internal thesis seminar. Scholar should also submit the similarity report along with the draft thesis.

The thesis seminar needs to be presented by the scholar only after s/he submits the approved draft thesis to the FPM Office with a copy to his/ her TAC Chair. Before submitting the final draft thesis for evaluation, the research scholar presents a seminar on the research to disseminate the findings to stimulate research work in the area. The seminar also provides an opportunity to obtain feedback from the institute's academic community including the TAC towards better presentation and findings. These suggestions have to be included in the final draft thesis. The research scholar through TAC chairperson should give at least 7 days to the FPM office for arranging the date for Internal Thesis Seminar presentation after submission of draft Thesis. The FPM office in consultation with FPM (Chairperson) and TAC Chair will finalize a date ensuring that there is a gap of at least 7 days between the circulation of abstract of draft thesis and Thesis Seminar presentation to encourage better participation from the Institute's academic community.

9.2 Plagiarism Policy

IIM Raipur expects that research scholars, faculty, research staff, all uphold academic integrity and practice exemplary research scholarship. While submitting term papers, assignments, presentations, proposals, thesis, papers it is expected that the research scholar who is submitting will ensure that it is his/her own work, he/she will acknowledge the work of other sources that he/she has borrowed from, and make it explicit who he/she has consulted in completing the work. Failure to acknowledge consultation, help, or sources are all treated as plagiarism. Plagiarism is judged by output and not by intent.

Plagiarism includes copying, colluding (working with someone inside or outside the Institute while the requirement is that a research scholar works alone), submitting someone else's work as one's own.

Plagiarism might be in the form of:

- (a) Copying text, ideas, figures, tables, computer code, mathematical derivations, and presenting it as yours. Changing it very slightly and not citing the source from which you took the original idea.
- (b) Paraphrasing by substituting words, by changing the order of words or phrases and presenting it as your own.
- (c) Paraphrasing by joining two or three short phrases from one or more sources.
- (d) Not putting quotation marks for phrases, sentences, paragraphs cited verbatim from other sources.

- (e) Making a collage by cutting and pasting from internet and openly available sources without acknowledging the sources.

- (i) Getting someone else (paid or non-paid) to do your work and presenting it as your work
- (j) Copying from your own work published or unpublished in the past without citing or mentioning it explicitly

Use the Chicago Style Guide, or APA Manual (7th edition) or any style indicated by the faculty or the outlet to which you are reporting to cite, acknowledge work cited or quoted by you. If you have any doubts please ask a colleague, faculty, or the Program Office for further clarification. You could also refer to <http://plagiarism.org/>. Learning to cite and refer appropriately is the writer's/author's/individual responsibility. Ignorance about style, rules is not a sufficient excuse to indulge in intentional or unintentional plagiarism.

Plagiarism is viewed as a serious offence and it will attract penalties including possible expulsion from the Institute. Complaints of plagiarism will be first made to the Chairperson (Doctoral Programmes) by the faculty and the Chairperson (Doctoral Programmes) will then initiate an enquiry and reach a decision. The research scholar will have the right to appeal to the Director whose decision will be final.

9.3 Grievance Redressal Policy

In the course of their program, it is sometimes possible that the research scholar may face issues which affect his/her well-being or ability to complete the program. For those rare but possible cases the Fellow Programmes Office has the following procedure in place for the research scholar to receive a fair hearing.

9.3.1 Process to be followed by the research scholar and office to resolve program related issues

For any issue that a research scholar s/he wants to be redressed and the Academic Advisor, Area Chairperson, or TAC Chair are unable to help the following process may be followed:

The research scholar submits a written complaint detailing the issue to the Chairperson (Doctoral Programmes). As a first step the Chairperson (Doctoral Programmes) will meet with the research scholar and ascertain if the issue can be solved by dialogue and discussion with the research scholar and the concerned party. In case such intervention does not resolve the issue the Chairperson (Doctoral Programmes) will form a sub-committee of two or three faculty members to address the issue in the fairest possible manner.

The research scholar if still dissatisfied can appeal to the Director who is the highest appellate authority in the Institute. The Director's decision will be final.

9.4 Publication Ethics and Authorship Norms

Norms for publication ethics and authorship are well established among the academic community, such as the one specified by Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE)⁴.

Attribution of authorship depends to some extent on the discipline but, in all cases, must be based on substantive contributions to a combination of the:

- (a) conception and design of the project;
- (b) analysis and interpretation of the research;
- (c) drafting significant parts of the work or critically reviewing it so as to contribute to the interpretation.

Each author must have participated sufficiently in the work to take public responsibility for at least that part of the work they contributed. All persons designated as authors must qualify for authorship, and all those who qualify must be offered authorship.

Authorship must not be offered to those who do not meet the requirements set out above. The right to authorship is not tied to position or profession: ghost, gift, or honorary authorship is unacceptable. For example, none of the following contributions justifies including a person as an author:

- (a) being an Organisational Unit head, holding other positions of authority, or personal friendship with the authors;
- (b) providing a technical contribution but no other intellectual input to the project or work to be submitted;
- (c) providing routine assistance in some aspects of the project, the acquisition of funding, or general supervision of the research team;
- (d) providing data that have already been published or materials obtained from third parties, but with no other intellectual input.

Where relevant, the term 'editor' should be applied only to a person who has played a significant role in the intellectual shaping of a publication.

Where appropriate, other persons who contributed to the research but do not meet the criteria for authorship should be named in the Acknowledgements. This includes those who have contributed facilities, materials or technical or other research or technical writing assistance. Funding bodies should always be acknowledged in a manner consistent with that described in the relevant funding agreement. Where individuals are to be acknowledged, authors should make all reasonable steps to obtain their written or email consent.

The order of the names in a publication is decided according to the quality of the contribution, the extent of the responsibility and accountability for the results, and the custom of the discipline.

The attribution of authorship is not affected by whether researchers were paid for their contributions or by their employment status.

An author who submits a manuscript for publication accepts the responsibility of having included as co-authors all persons who are entitled to co-authorship, and none who are inappropriate.

The submitting author should send each co-author a draft copy of the manuscript and should make a reasonable attempt to obtain consent to co-authorship, including the order of names; other contributions should be indicated in a footnote or an "Acknowledgements" section, in accordance with the standards of the discipline and the publisher.

9.4.1 Author(s)' Responsibilities

All researchers must take all reasonable steps to ensure that their findings are accurate and properly reported. If they become aware subsequently that their findings were inaccurate and/or improperly reported, then researchers should take all reasonable steps to correct the record.

All researchers have a responsibility to accurately assign credit for contributions to a research publication or outcome.

Each author of a research publication takes responsibility for the validity, originality, and integrity of the research that they contributed, or permitted to have been contributed, to the research that is disseminated. Each author must be offered the opportunity to review and approve the final version of the work to be submitted for publication.

A researcher must, prior to publication of any research that names the researcher as an author, assure himself / herself that:

- (a) authorship has been offered to all people who meet the criteria for authorship listed above; and
- (b) appropriate steps have been taken to obtain each person's written or email notification of acceptance or disclaimer of authorship within a reasonable time of the offer being made.

Collaborating researchers should agree on authorship and author order of a publication at an early stage in the research project and should review their decisions periodically. Where a publication has several authors, one author should take responsibility for:

- (a) recording authorship and managing communications about the publication with the co-authors and editor/publisher;
- (b) ensuring that all authors acknowledge their authorship and contribution in writing or by email before submitting the work for review;
- (c) keeping a record of such correspondence for the period described.

9.4.2 Models to Promote Authorship and Author Order Discussion

Some of the models that promote authorship and author order discussion are as follows:

- (a) American Psychological Association (1992) Ethical principles of psychologists and code of conduct. American Psychologist 47: 1597-1611.
- (b) Beveridge CA and Morris SE (2007) Order of merit. Nature 448: 508, www.authorder.com.
- (c) Winston RB (1985) A suggested procedure for determining order of authorship in research publications. Journal of Counseling and Development 63: 515-518.

Guidelines for Writing the Thesis

PREAMBLE

While utmost attention must be paid to the content of the thesis, which is being submitted in partial fulfillment of the requirements of the Ph. D. degree, it is important that a standard format be prescribed. The same format shall also be followed in preparation of the final soft copies to be submitted to FPM office.

1. ORGANISATION OF THE THESIS

This thesis shall be presented in a number of chapters, starting with Introduction and ending with Summary and Conclusions. Each of the other chapters will have a precise title reflecting the contents of the chapter. A chapter can be subdivided into sections, sub-sections and sub-sub-section so as to present the content discretely and with due emphasis.

1.1 Introduction

The title of Chapter 1 shall be Introduction. It shall justify and highlight the problem posed, define the topic and explain the aim and scope of the work presented in the thesis. It may also highlight the significant contributions from the investigation.

1.2 Review of Literature

This shall normally form Chapter 2 and shall present a critical appraisal of the previous work published in the literature pertaining to the topic of the investigation. The extent and emphasis of the chapter shall depend on the nature of the investigation.

1.3 Report on the present investigation

The reporting on the investigation shall be presented in one or more chapters with appropriate chapter titles.

Due importance shall be given to experimental setups, procedures adopted, techniques developed, methodologies developed and adopted.

While important derivations/formulae should normally be presented in the text of these chapters, extensive and long treatments, copious details and tedious information, detailed results in tabular and graphical forms may be presented in Appendices. Representative data in table and figures may, however, be included in appropriate chapters.

Figures and tables should be presented immediately following their first mention in the text. Short tables and figures (say, less than half the writing area of the page) should be presented within the text, while large table and figures may be presented on separate pages.

Equations should form separate lines with appropriate paragraph separation above and below the equation line, with equation numbers flushed to the right.

1.4 Results and Discussions

This shall form the penultimate chapter of the thesis and shall include a thorough evaluation of the investigation carried out and bring out the contributions from the study. The discussion shall logically lead to inferences and conclusions as well as scope for possible further future work.

1.5 Summary and Conclusions

This will be the final chapter of the thesis. A brief report of the work carried out shall form the first part of the Chapter. Conclusions derived from the logical analysis presented in the Results and Discussions Chapter shall be presented and clearly enumerated, each point stated separately. Scope for future work should be stated lucidly in the last part of the chapter.

1.6 Appendix

Detailed information, lengthy derivations, raw experimental observations etc. are to be presented in the separate appendices, which shall be numbered in Roman Capitals (e.g. "Appendix IV"). Since reference can be drawn to published/unpublished literature in the appendices these should precede the "Literature Cited" section.

1.7 Literature Cited

This should follow the Appendices, if any, otherwise the Summary and Conclusions chapter. The candidates shall follow the style of citation and style of listing in one of the standard journals in the subject area consistently throughout his/her thesis. However, the names of all the authors along with their initials and the full title of the article/monogram/book etc. have to be given in addition to the journals/publishers, volume, number, pages(s) and year of publication.

Citation from websites should include the names(s) of author(s) (including the initials), full title of the article, website reference and when last accessed. Reference to personal communications, similarly, shall include the author, title of the communication (if any) and date of receipt.

1.7.1 Publications by the candidate

Articles, technical notes etc. on the topic of the thesis published by the candidate may be separately listed after the literature cited. This may also be included in the contents. The candidates may also include reprints of his/her publications after the literature citation.

1.8 Acknowledgements

The acknowledgments by the candidate shall follow the citation of literature, signed by him/her, with date.

A vertical gap of about 25mm shall be left between the Chapter number and Chapter title lines and between chapter title line and the first paragraph.

2.2.2 Sections and Sub-sections

A chapter can be divided into Sections, Sub-sections and Sub-sub-Sections so as to present different concepts separately. Sections and sub-sections can be numbered using decimal points, e.g. 2.2 for the second section in Chapter 2 and 2.3.4 for the fourth Sub- section in third Section of Chapter 2. Chapters, Sections and Sub-sections shall be included in the contents with page numbers flushed to the right. Further subsections need not be numbered or included in the contents.

The Section and Sub-Section titles along with their numbers in 5 and 4mm (16 and 14 pt) fonts, respectively, in bold face shall be flushed to the left (not centered) with 15 mm space above and below these lines.

THESIS EVALUATION GUIDELINES

The Fellow Programme in Management at the Indian Institute of Management Raipur has 1.5 years of course work followed by a comprehensive written examination. Upon successful completion of the course work, the research scholar works towards his/her doctoral work which culminates in the form of a thesis. Presentation of the thesis in a public seminar and successful defense of the thesis in an oral examination is a requirement for the award of the title “Doctor of Philosophy”. Accordingly, a Thesis Evaluation Committee (TEC) comprising of the three TAC (Thesis Advisory Committee) members of the research scholar and two external examiners is formulated for examining the thesis of the research scholar. The thesis is first examined by the TAC of the research scholar who certify the thesis to be original and worthy of examiners by external examiners. A thesis must be evaluated by two external examiners before the research scholar is permitted to proceed towards thesis defense. This document presents the guidelines for evaluation of the thesis of the research scholar before it can be submitted for the defense.

An external examiner is requested to evaluate the thesis on the basis of whether it contains an original idea or an original application of an existing idea and whether it is ready for a defense. The examiner may satisfy himself/herself as to whether the scholar has sufficiently exercised his/her mind and whether the overall quality compares favourably with doctoral dissertations in related areas. Importance must also be paid to the overall thesis as well as the robustness and rigor in the research method. The comments can be noted in the attached Thesis Review Form in the form of a narrative evaluation. An external examiner is requested to evaluate the thesis and submit his/ her report within 75 days from the date of receiving the thesis . In addition to providing a narrative evaluation, an external examiner is required to make an explicit choice of one of the following options with regard to the acceptability or readiness of the thesis for defense :

Category I: Accept without change

When all members of the Thesis Examination Committee (TEC) accept the thesis as Category I, the research scholar will go ahead for Thesis Defense / Viva-Voce Examination.

Category II: Accept the thesis conditionally with minor modifications

If one or more members of the TEC accept the thesis in Category II, the scholar will make the desired corrections within 30 days and TAC Chair will certify that minor changes asked by examiners, have been incorporated in the thesis by scholar and then the research scholar will go ahead for Thesis Defense Examination.

Category III: Resubmission after Changes

If one or more members of the TEC suggest Category III - Resubmission, the Thesis Advisory Committee (TAC) and the research scholar will meet to discuss the issues raised by the examiner(s). Scholar will make the desired corrections within 60 days and TAC Chair will certify that changes asked by external examiners have been incorporated in the thesis by scholar. The corrected thesis will be sent again to the same external examiner / both the external examiners. External examiner will again evaluate the corrected thesis within 60 days from the date of receipt of the thesis.

The defense will take place after acceptance of the revised thesis of the research scholar by the examiner(s). If the examiner is not satisfied with the revised thesis, a second round of correspondence should be sent will take place. In rare situations where the second round of correspondence is also not found to be satisfactory by the examiner(s), the Doctoral Program Committee can meet and decide on the next step on a case-to-case basis.

Category IV: Unacceptable

If one member of the TEC finds the thesis unacceptable, then opinion of a third external examiner would be sought. If a thesis is found to be unacceptable by more than one examiner, then a new thesis has to be resubmitted. A research scholar would be allowed to resubmit a new thesis only once. The time given for resubmission of a new thesis, however, should not be more than completion of seven years in the programme.

Thesis Defense / Viva-Voce Examination

After acceptance of the thesis, an oral examination (i.e. Thesis Defense) will be conducted by the Thesis Examination Committee (TEC) comprised of the TAC and the external examiner (s). The members of the TEC will evaluate whether the dissertation examined at the defense can categorically be certified as of the standard for the award of the title "Doctor of Philosophy". There can be one and only one dissent among the TEC members. If the TEC rejects the dissertation outright (with more than one member so rejecting), the scholar is dropped from the Programme.

After the defense, the research scholar will incorporate

- a. all modifications as addressed by him/her in response to queries raised by the examiner(s), and
- b. changes suggested during the defense, for which a maximum period of 30 days would be given to the research scholar from the date of the defense.
- c. The research scholar should then get the acceptance form signed by the Advisor(s), who will ensure that modifications/ changes have been incorporated, and submit three hardbound copies (one each for TAC Chair, FPM Office and Library) and soft copy of the dissertation along with a letter from the Advisor(s) certifying that changes are made.
